Haki Travels
TRAVEL GREENER, EXPLORE DEEPER

TASTE OF BAVARIA

Food & drink in Bavaria

What to order and how the beer garden works.

- Weißwurst — the morning classic
  White sausages with sweet mustard and a pretzel. Traditionally eaten before noon; peel off the casing.
- Obazda + Brezn — a light bite
  A seasoned cheese spread with a fresh pretzel. My usual choice when I want a snack rather than a full meal.
- Hungry? Haxe or Käsespätzle
  Schweinshaxe is roast pork knuckle with crisp skin. Käsespätzle are soft egg noodles with cheese and fried onions.
- Something sweet: Kaiserschmarrn
  A fluffy pancake torn into pieces and dusted with sugar. A lovely reward after a mountain walk.
- Choose your drink
  Helles: pale lager. Weißbier: wheat beer. Radler: beer with lemonade. A Halbe is 0.5 L; a Maß is 1 L.
- Self-service or table service?
  Traditional self-service areas may allow your own snack; buy drinks there and check house rules. Table service works differently.

Haki tip — start with Obazda.

Order a pretzel and Obazda while you look through the menu. There is no need to rush into a huge meal.

Full food guide → hakitravels.com

Prices vary by venue. Check the current menu; keep cash and coins handy.
Checked 9 Oct 2026.

Save this · Follow @hakitravels

Travel greener, explore deeper
hakitravels.com