FIELD ITINERARY · FROM MUNICH

Rotwand from Spitzingsee

Up on foot, down by cable car.

HIKING · MY DAY	CABLE CAR · ADULT DESCENT	MY CABLE-CAR DESCENT
~4 h 15 min	€13	14 min

GETTING TO THE TRAIL

Munich — RB55 — Schliersee — BUS 362 — Spitzingsee — WALK — Taubenstein — WALK — Rotwand

1 Munich → Schliersee → Spitzingsee

My train 08:28 · hike started 10:04 · access ~1 h 45 min

Use a Deutschland-Ticket or Bayern-Ticket for regional train and bus 362. Check your train section is heading towards Bayrischzell.

2 Up towards Taubenstein

11:25 at Taubenstein · 1,693 m

The first cable-secured rocky section needs sure-footedness and a head for heights. Read the DAV sign before committing.

3 Across the ridge to Rotwand

Summit 12:35 · 1,884 m

A second short cable-secured section leads to the summit. Enjoy the views, leaving time for the descent and the lift.

4 Down via Miesingsattel

13:06 at the saddle · past Taubensteinhaus

This steep descent made me nervous. Avoid it on wet rock. Continue towards the upper Taubensteinbahn station.

5 Lunch, then the cable car down

Buffet 14:15 · cable car 15:17–15:31

Käsespätzle and a Hopf wheat beer near the upper station. Bring cash and toilet coins; buy a one-way descent ticket.

6 Spitzingsee → Fischhausen-Neuhaus → Munich

My bus 16:01 · back in Munich 17:36

I missed the 15:31 bus. Bus 362 to Fischhausen-Neuhaus, then RB55 to Munich. A buffer left time by the lake.

Train + bus: Deutschland-Ticket or Bayern-Ticket. Bayern-Ticket weekdays from 09:00, so not for an 08:28 weekday train. Taubensteinbahn adult descent €13, separate.

Haki tip — plan around the last lift. My ~8 km / ~790 m route took 4 h 15 min at a fast pace, snack break included. Allow more time. Wear hiking shoes and pack a jacket. This route calls for alpine experience.

My visit: 12 Sept 2026 · Historical times, not current departures · Checked 9 Oct 2026.
Summer closing 17:00; after the autumn clock change 16:30. Check weather, lift and bus.
